About

At Quantum University, the Business Lab serves as a practical and hands-on tool that allows participants to explore business strategies in an engaging, risk-free, and virtually realistic setting. Through business simulation activities and games, participants enhance their skills across multiple areas such as financial analysis, market research, operations management, decision-making, problem-solving, communication, and mentorship.

The Business Simulation Lab at Quantum University provides both students and faculty with a virtual experimental platform. Here, they can immerse themselves in market concepts, analyze scenarios, and craft strategic decisions through simulated trading activities.
