1. Junkyard

Impulse club ingeniously orchestrated an engaging and impactful event known as "Junkyard" on 10th August 2018. Against the backdrop of India's pressing waste management challenge, Impulse undertook a commendable initiative to raise awareness among our students about the imperative need to harness waste in a resourceful manner.

The event's premise was brilliantly simple yet profoundly significant: 40 participants were tasked with transforming discarded materials into ingenious and functional creations. Amidst a rich array of materials including discarded plastic bottles from beverages, bangles, and even charcoal, the student participants exhibited remarkable ingenuity and creativity. As the event unfolded, teams collaborated passionately to breathe life into their innovative visions. The results were nothing short of inspiring, with several teams crafting exceptionally productive and inventive prototypes. A standout accomplishment was the creation of a water purifier by a group of talented first-year B.Sc. students, showcasing their unwavering commitment to sustainability and addressing a critical need.

In an impressive display of prowess, second-year Mechanical students crafted a fully operational bicycle, serving as a testament to their technical acumen and imaginative prowess. These tangible manifestations underscored the potential of reimagining waste materials as valuable resources.

An esteemed panel of faculty members took on the arduous task of evaluating the models, with keen eyes attuned to the finer details of innovation, functionality, and eco-friendliness. The climax of the event was the eagerly anticipated announcement of the runner-up and victor. Emerging from the pool of exceptional talent, Saurabh Kumar and Malay Mishra, both first-year

B.Sc. students, rightfully earned the esteemed title of winners, a testament to their creativity and dedication to addressing real-world challenges through inventive means. Impulse's Junkyard event transcended the boundaries of a mere competition, transforming into a powerful educational platform that illuminated the potential of waste materials when combined with innovative thinking. The event stands as a beacon of hope and inspiration, fostering a generation of young minds equipped to revolutionize waste management and contribute meaningfully to a more sustainable future for India and beyond.

5. Teacher's Day Celebration

On behalf of the students of B.Tech, B.Sc.(PCM), B.Sc.(Agri.) and Health Sciences, the Literary Society of Quantum University organized a wonderful program on 5th Sept.2018 with 65 students to celebrate Teacher's Day in honor of their faculty members.

The function began with lamp lighting in obeisance to Goddess Saraswati and was followed by a delightful performance of Krishna vandana. Then the students made a very informative presentation on Dr. S. Radhakrishnan, the third President of India who was a great teacher, writer and philosopher and in whose memory Teacher's day is celebrated.

There was a cake cutting ceremony and the students greeted Hon. Vice Chancellor, Dr.Vivek Kumar and the Director, Dr.Gulshan Chauhan with bouquets of flowers. Hon. Vice Chancellor addressed the gathering and encouraged all with his motivational words.

The program continued with colorful dances, melodious songs, a skit and an exhilarating band performance for the entertainment of the faculty members. There were interesting games for the teachers and everybody participated with exuberance in the fun activities. The celebrations ended with refreshments for the faculty members.
