Title: Vishwakarma Pooja

No. of Attendees- 43

On September 17/18, a day regarded as highly auspicious in Indian culture, Lord Vishwakarma Day is celebrated. This day is marked by special Pooja (prayer rituals) and havan (sacred fire ceremonies) conducted in workshops across India. Today, at Quantum, we joyously observed Vishwakarma Puja, venerating the divine architect, Lord Vishwakarma, recognized as the self-born creator of the world.

Under the guidance of Pandit Nitu, the havan and Puja took place amidst esteemed company, including faculties, technicians, and senior management figures such as the vice chancellor, Deans, and Registrar, gathered in the Workshop. Even some students joined, seeking blessings from the divine. The ceremony was a spiritual gathering where Prasad (blessed offerings) was shared with all attendees, symbolizing the blessings of the occasion.

Vishwakarma Puja transcends religious and cultural boundaries, celebrating the diverse skills and craftsmanship of individuals like carpenters, engineers, craftsmen, and artists. It serves as a testament to the rich tapestry of India's cultural heritage. During this festival, exquisite idols and sculptures are crafted, honoring Lord Vishwakarma and showcasing the artistic prowess of different communities.

This celebration underscores the essence of unity in diversity. People from varied backgrounds come together, offering prayers and seeking blessings. Vishwakarma Puja becomes a vibrant tapestry where communal harmony and cultural unity flourish. It's a time when we acknowledge and appreciate the myriad talents and contributions of different communities, recognizing their role in shaping our world. Through these rituals, we are reminded of the profound importance of unity, harmony, and mutual respect in our diverse society.

LIVE PERFORMANCE OF STUDENTS DURING MUSIC FEST

Name of the Event: Live Performance

Organizing Department/Club/Society: Quantum University

Date Start: 20th October 2018

Number of Participants: 350

Quantum University, located in Punjab, celebrated the rich cultural diversity of its student body through a vibrant music fest held on 20th October 2018. This event provided a unique platform for students from North and the North Eastern states like Manipur and Meghalaya to showcase their musical talents, bridging the gap between their diverse cultures. The fest not only highlighted the musical diversity in North Indian and Manipuri cultures but also emphasized the universality of music, transcending barriers and connecting hearts.

Despite the varied cultural backgrounds, students from different states shared a common passion for music. The event showcased the remarkable diversity in musical styles, instruments, and vocal traditions. While Hindi rock music is widely known, the fest offered a rare opportunity for students from North East India to introduce their exclusive and unique musical heritage to a wider audience. Through this event, the students broke the confinement of their native states, allowing their cultural music to resonate with the world outside.

The music fest became a melting pot of cultures, where traditional Hindi rock music and Manipuri music fused harmoniously. What made this event special were not only the performances but also the use of similar musical instruments by students from different cultural backgrounds. This highlighted the universal language of music, emphasizing that music knows no barriers and speaks to the soul irrespective of cultural origins.

The primary objective of the music fest was to foster a sense of unity and inclusion among the students. By providing a platform for cultural exchange, Quantum University encouraged students to learn about each other, fostering a sense of camaraderie and mutual respect. As the event unfolded, students embraced the opportunity to appreciate and applaud each other's cultures, breaking down stereotypes and building bridges of understanding.

A stage that brought together not just music but also cultures under one roof

GULZAR KARTING CHAMPIONSHIP TO PROMOTE TEAMWORK AMONG DIVERSE GROUP OF STUDENTS

Name of the Event: Gulzar Karting Championship Technical Event

Organizing Department/ Club/Society: Department of Mechanical Engineering

Organizing Coordinators: Mr.M. Kannan & Mr Vivek Kumar Sharma

Date Start: 25th October 2018

No. of Participants: 185

Quantum University proudly hosts a vibrant community of students hailing from diverse corners of India. Among our diverse student body, a significant number comes from the North East, Uttar Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Punjab, and beyond. Recognizing the richness in this cultural mosaic, Quantum University orchestrated the Gulzar Karting Championship, a memorable event designed to foster unity, friendship, love, and cultural tolerance among students from varied backgrounds.

On the 15th of October 2018, the Mechanical Engineering Department at Quantum University orchestrated this national-level karting extravaganza. The event served as an engaging platform, not just for thrilling karting races, but also for imparting essential knowledge about automobiles. Concepts such as Automobile basics, Chassis, Brakes, Steering, and Power Trains were explored. Various challenging tests including endurance, brake, acceleration, and traction tests were part of the competition.

Despite the anticipation of 42 teams, 26 teams made it on time, showcasing their enthusiasm and commitment. Although a couple of teams faced disqualification due to tardiness, the spirit of competition and camaraderie prevailed. In this dynamic atmosphere, Quantum University's team shone bright, earning the prestigious Best Manufacturing Award. Their exceptional performance secured them the third place in the overall rankings, a feat celebrated with a well-deserved Rs 5,100 cheque.

Beyond the victories and accolades, what truly stood out was the interaction between our team members, organizers, and volunteers. Through this event, bonds were forged, friendships were made, and bridges of understanding were built. Our students not only excelled in the competition but also engaged wholeheartedly, fostering meaningful connections with the Gulzar Group of Institute team.

The Gulzar Karting Championship became more than just a racing event; it transformed into a celebration of unity in diversity. Quantum University continues to champion such initiatives, nurturing an environment where cultural differences are celebrated and students learn the values of cooperation, respect, and harmony in the most enjoyable manner possible.

CELEBRATING NATIONAL UNITY DAY HARMONIZING DIVERSE CULTURES

Name of the Event: Celebrating National Unity Day

Organizing Department/ Club/Society: School of Agricultural Studies

Organizing Coordinator: Dr. N. Murugalatha

Date: 31st October 2018

No. of Attendees: 250

National Unity Day stands as a significant occasion underscoring the pivotal role of cultural, regional, and communal diversity in nurturing national unity. Observed at Quantum University on October 31st, 2018, this day pays tribute to Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, fondly remembered as the Iron Man of India. It serves as a poignant reminder to cherish and uphold the values of unity, integrity, and diversity that Patel passionately advocated for throughout his life.

This commemorative day serves a crucial purpose. It acts as a catalyst, bringing individuals from diverse cultural backgrounds, varied regions, and distinct communities together. Rather than erasing differences, it encourages the celebration of unique identities while fostering a profound sense of belonging to the grand tapestry of our nation.

National Unity Day, far from considering diversity a challenge, celebrates it as a potent strength that binds us as a nation. This celebration enriches our shared heritage, reminding us that our collective strength lies in embracing the multitude of cultures, languages, and traditions that paint the mosaic of our nation. This day, therefore, becomes a testament to the idea that our diversity is not just a part of our identity but is, in fact, the very thread that weaves us into a unified and harmonious whole.

National Unity day calls for harmony among diverse community and foster tolerance and love

CELEBRATION OF GURU GOBIND SINGH JAYANTI, MAKAR SANKRANTI, LOHRI, BIHU AMONG QUANTUM STUDENTS

Organizing Coordinators: Mr. M. Kannan, Mr. Ankur Jain

Date: 12th January 2019

No. of Attendees: 289

On January 13, 2019, Quantum University embraced multicultural festivals, recognizing the universal appeal of Indian festivals that transcend cultures. These celebrations provide a unique opportunity for people to absorb positive energy and authentic ideologies from deities. For university students, it becomes a chance not only to learn about diverse cultures but also to actively participate in them. This combined celebration fosters tolerance, making those far from their native homes feel a sense of belonging and unity.

Understanding the significance of these festivals and their spiritual essence is crucial. By embracing the authentic ways of celebration, we maximize the benefits. These festivities, including Makar Sankranti, Lohri, and Bihu around January 14, mark the arrival of spring and the new harvest. They signify the end of winter and provide ample reasons for joy, enjoyment, and celebration.

CELEBRATION OF EID- UL- FITAR

Name of the Event: Celebration of Eid- Ul- Fitr

Organizing Coordinators: Mr. Kamal Kant

Date Start: 5th June 2019

Number of Participants: 50

Quantum University is committed to fostering inclusivity and creating a sense of belonging for all its students, including those from the Muslim community. Annually, the university celebrates Eid-ul-Fitr, commemorating this significant festival within the Quantum Campus on June 5, 2019. Eid-ul-Fitr holds profound meaning for Muslims; it's a time to express gratitude to Allah for the strength to fast and seek forgiveness for any sins.

This joyous occasion isn't just about religious observance; it's a celebration that embraces the tapestry of cultural, communal, and regional diversity. Eid-ul-Fitr marks the end of Ramadan, a period of fasting and spiritual reflection for Muslims globally. Families and communities gather, breaking their fast together, exchanging gifts, and engaging in acts of charity. The festival's cultural traditions, such as special prayers, feasts, and traditional attire, vary across regions and communities, adding to the richness of the celebration.

Eid-ul-Fitr at Quantum University becomes a powerful symbol of unity and inclusivity. It showcases the diversity of cultural practices, strengthening communal bonds as people from various backgrounds join in the festivities, sharing love and fostering understanding among all.

NUKKAD NATAK ON REPUBLIC DAY OF INDIA

Name of the Event: Nukkad Natak

Organizing Department/Club/Society: Quantum University

Date Start: 26th January 2019

Number of Participants: 250

On the auspicious occasion of Republic Day, January 26, 2019, Quantum University celebrated the essence of India's diverse cultural tapestry and the fundamental rights enshrined in the Constitution of India. Republic Day marks the historic moment when the Constitution came into effect, granting every citizen the right to live with dignity and respect. To commemorate this day, a compelling Nukkad Natak was staged on the Quantum University campus, emphasizing the message of unity, cultural harmony, and the right to dignity for every Indian citizen.

Under the theme of India's cultural diversity and the constitutional right to live with dignity, a group of actors representing various cultures came together to perform a powerful Nukkad Natak. This street play became a medium to convey a profound message about the importance of cultural and regional harmony. The play focused on the fundamental right of every citizen to live with dignity, resonating with the spirit of the Indian Constitution. In the presence of a gathered audience of approximately 250 students, the Nukkad Natak stirred the consciousness of the spectators. The actors' heartfelt portrayal of the message left a lasting impact, filling the hearts of the viewers with a sense of unity and mutual respect. The play served as a reminder of the struggles of old India during the fight for independence, honoring the sacrifices made by the martyrs in the pursuit of freedom.

In addition to celebrating constitutional rights and cultural harmony, Republic Day was an occasion to pay homage to the brave martyrs who sacrificed their lives for India's independence. A moment of silence and respect was observed, honoring the memory of those who fought valiantly against the British reign. The Republic Day Nukkad Natak at Quantum University became a powerful medium to convey essential messages of unity, dignity, and cultural harmony. Through the art of theater, students and actors brought to life the spirit of the Indian Constitution, reminding everyone of the values that binds the nation together. This celebration not only honored the historic significance of Republic Day but also inspired a new generation to uphold the principles of unity, diversity, and respect, ensuring that the spirit of India's constitution continues to thrive among its citizens.

Celebrating Indian Republic day with a message through staged Nukkad Natak on the theme of fundamental right of every citizen to live with dignity, resonating with the spirit of the Indian Constitution.
